

I think it's unfair how companies take advantage of the countries in the global south.

How do they take advantage?

They produce products under bad working conditions and don't pay much.

What kind of work? Can you give an example?

For example, the clothing industries in Asia.

But they provide jobs and income to the people there.

That's true, but if they would pay a decent wage, people could actually improve their lives.

But then our clothing would cost more here. I don't want to pay more.

And that is why I think it's unfair. Because you want to save money, other people suffer.

You're right. I never thought about it like that. But I don't have that much money either.

I know you don't. But we need to support better companies.

You're right. If nobody buys these shirts, they will have to change something.
